

“DATTILO M” ISOLA KYTHNOS
SALVAGE LLOYD’S OPEN FORM (LOF) 06.01.2012

On 5th January 2012 the Italian tanker M/c “Dattilo”, employed in the transport of chemical and oil products, went adrift in Aegean sea. Due to the seriousness of the situation and after having contacted the shore management, the Master contacted SMIT - a company specialized in maritime salvage - to intervene. Salvage services were rendered under Lloyds Open Form 2011 (LOF), based on “no cure - no pay”. On 7th January 21012 with assistance of two tugs, “Aegean Pelagos” and “AHT Christos XXII” the vessel was safely berthed.

We have been instructed to act on behalf of H&M Underwriters to investigate the casualty and protect “Dattilo” interests as to settle the claim mounted by SMIT.

The claim has been settled within few months from the event.